Dear Brian

Over the past year we have worked together to build a food concept unique to the fine food industry.

Putting together a superior product and a fail-safe service system, we have been able to provide a package that will enable a quality restaurant dining experience to be offered from any food service facility, or location, with only minimal equipment and generally, unqualified staff.

Your knowledge and assistance with menu compilation, meal presentation, service standards and production of process documentation, has been invaluable to this process, and has supported us greatly in meeting the high standards expected of our discerning clientele.

I also greatly appreciate your educated input with our marketing and advertising, and just wish to say "Many Thanks".

Be assured that I would have no hesitation in recommending the proven experience of Hospitality Consulting & Services to anyone seeking any form of assistance or advice with food service operations, from production to service.

Once again

"Many Thanks"
